May is Asian Pacific American Heritage Month

The Marshall Center is celebrating Asian Pacific American Heritage Month in May. The theme for this year's celebration is "Salute to Liberty" and will feature cultural foods, a fashion show and dance demonstration. Daphne Kwok, executive director of the Asian Pacific American Institute for Congressional Studies, will speak at the main ceremony at 11:30 a.m. May 28 in Morris Auditorium. Other events include a Casual Conversation with Marshall Director Art Stephenson, a community banquet and proclamation signing. For more information, call Willie Love at 544-0088 or see "Inside Marshall."

MSAT Safety Jeopardy Board event, 11 a.m.-noon, Thursday, Bldg. 4200, basement lobby

'Buckle Up Awareness Day' is May 20

American Red Cross Blood drive at Marshall is Friday

The American Red Cross will hold a blood drive from 8 a.m.-1:30 p.m. Friday in the Center Activities Bldg. 4316. Blood donors receive a free T-shirt. In April, 84 pints of blood were collected from Marshall team members. For more information, call Rick Wallace at 544-8885.

Employees reminded not to cover official badges

Marshall team members should make sure that any extra badges are behind their official NASA or contractor badge. This includes the "I Think Safe Because" badges.
